

1812 Tone

The British Folk Convention

February 3 - 5, 2006

Grantham Marriott Hotel
Grantham, Lincolnshire, UK

PR#3

North American Guest of Honour:
Sam Baardman

&

UK Guest of Honour:
Mich Sampson

12-Tone Technique bases the melodies and harmonies of a piece on an ordering of the 12 notes of the chromatic scale.

The 12 tones of an octave are not centred around any single tone, but are united by the composer's selected order of tones for a given composition. This technique represented a clear break with the harmonic formulas of music that had been developed during the 18th and 19th centuries.

Hotel Info

The booking period has expired. A very few rooms being held - if you need one, please contact the liaisons as soon as possible, via email:

hotelliaisons@contabile.org.uk

or snail mail:

1812Tone Booking
c/o 165 Cold Overton Road
Oakham, Rutland LE15 6NU
UK

We apologise for omitting the postal address in PR2.

If you have already booked, thank you very much! You should have been contacted by our friendly hotel liaisons to confirm sharers, room type, and the like.

For those who don't know UK hotels:

Breakfast is INCLUDED in your room cost. Also, DON'T bring any alcohol into the hotel, and British hotels aren't that keen on you bringing food in either, except in the case of particular dietary needs.

The hotel has a Leisure Centre, complimentary to residents, which contains a heated (indoor) pool, spa bath, sauna, steam room, and exercise equipment.

Tech

First, calling all performers, particularly those doing things with lots of other people! Let me know in advance (email to gk@scrumpy.org) what tech requirements you have for your sets. If you don't know what you will need in the way of tech, tell me what you want to do, and I'll see what you need from that. If you think you might have people joining you, but don't know for sure, include them - it's much easier not to use a microphone than it is to magic three at no notice ("Oh, by the way, Divine Strumpet and Phoenix are joining me on this song, and the nMC are singing backing - didn't I tell you about that before?")...

Second, calling anyone who wants to be involved with tech (previous experience or not). We will be setting up a rota for running the desk during the day. We will also be trying to relay what is going on in the main room through to the kids' rooms and potentially the dealers, which means we need someone to drive a video camera (or at least to set it up and leave it running). Please let me know in advance if you can help with this.

We will also be doing a few things to help those who would like to learn more about tech - at least at the level of being able to operate a system once set up. We will be having a "grasshopper slot" on the main rota, where people can sign up to watch/assist/learn from the main tech.

I am also hoping to organise a "mixing workshop" to help people learn to mix both live work and recordings, with a chance to get your hands on a real sound desk!

Any questions, please contact me on gk@scrumpy.org.

The Sams

Lissa Allcock will be spearheading the UK Filk Awards once more. Nominations and voting will be at the con. As traditional, a special concert will take place showcasing the award winners.

The Filk Fund

The Filk Fund is the source of funds for an overseas guest to the UK filk convention each year. 1812Tone thanks the Fund very much for providing the means to bring Sam Baardman to the convention. The Filk Fund annual meeting will take a Very Brief Slot on Sunday before lunch.

The Auction

Roger Robinson will be hosting the auction on Saturday evening, just before the dinner break. As stated in PR2, all funds from this year's auction are being graciously donated by the Filk Fund for the nMC/Interfilk/FilKONtario joint project to get the nMC to Toronto in 2007.

This year's auction contains some very special items from the collection of the Dutch fan HANS LOOSE, who sadly died in early 2004. Because of the special nature of these items – and to raise more money for the Filk Fund's support of the nMC project - we are trying an experiment involving pre-bidding for these items.

The starting price in the at-con auction will be determined by any pre-con bids. All the items listed will be displayed at the con. As usual a table will also be provided to display all the other items attendees bring along for the auction.

Please turn to page 6 of this PR for the list of items and bidding instructions. Please note that this is not the complete list of items, only those qualifying for pre-bids.

Dealers

Currently assigned tables:

- Tales from the White Hart
- Beccon
- At the Sign of the Dragon

Because Roger will be at the back of the main function room where he can keep an eye on the auction goodies, we may be able to squeeze in one or two more tables. Please send an email to conchair@contabile.org.uk to enquire.

Directions

From the A1, you should turn onto the A607 towards Grantham / Melton Mowbray. At the roundabout, take the second exit onto Swingbridge Road.

Direct trains leave London King's Cross about every hour and take about 1 hour 10 minutes. GNER Standard Advance single tickets are about £10-14 as of 12 January 2006. The Grantham train station is about one mile from the hotel. There is no hotel shuttle service.

Children

For liability reasons, 1812Tone cannot provide childcare as part of the convention membership. A parents' rota is being organized by Annie Walker that will allow cooperative child minding in a function room near the main convention space – hopefully, with piped-in audio (and perhaps video) of main room events. If you are interested in participating, please contact her at: stevieannie@btopenworld.com 1812Tone cannot be responsible for the behaviour or safety of the children at the hotel. It is vitally important that children under 10 be supervised at all times. Yes, fannish children are generally well behaved, but we also remember when we were small and inclined to get into... mischief. Be aware that parents will be held responsible for their children's activities.

Registration

Registration opens at 15.00 Friday.

New memberships are now only available at the door. At-the-door rates are:

£36 Waged
£18 Unwaged / Children over 5
£1 Children 5 or under / Soft toys

Major Programme Items Preliminary Schedule

Filkcon Bid Session: Saturday, 20.00
n'Early Music Consort: Sunday, 14.00
Sams ceremony: Sunday, 17.30
Sams concert /Closing Ceremonies:
Sunday, 18.00

Programme

We've lined up a full and fun track of concerts on all three days of 1812Tone. In addition, we have an alternate room for work shops, open filk, and special version of jam sessions that we're calling "Unstabands."

On Saturday, four groups of musicians who ordinarily do not have the opportunity to play together will enter the room; all singers, but one guitarist, one bass player, one percussionist, one keyboardist, and one "additional" musician. The members of each band won't know who the other players are until they reach the convention. Each band will be given one hour to play and sing together - whatever they want to play. Listening audiences are welcome, but the band is the band. At the end of the hour, the members of the band will decide which of all the songs that they played really rocked. Then they will give over to the next Unstaband. Bands are discouraged from meeting on the side for additional "rehearsal."

On Sunday, before the Sams recipients grace us with a repeat performance of their winning compositions, the Unstabands will play their selections (we're asking the keyboard players to share an instrument for quicker set up.) It should be a fun and wonderful musical experiment.

Instructions:

To bid, please indicate clearly your name and full postal address, which item(s) you are interested in and your minimum and maximum bids (in UK£) and send your bids to:

1812Tone Bids, c/o 34 Star Road, Isleworth, Middlesex TW7 4HB

“Bid” must be marked clearly on the envelope, and bids must arrive before February 1, 2006.

If you are present in the auction at the con you can, of course, override/exceed your postal bids. Postal bids tied with the same max bid will be resolved based on postmark date.

Postal bidders unable to attend the auction will be advised of any successful bids immediately after the con. The items concerned will be posted to you (at your cost) in return for your cheque. For contested items you will be charged with £1 more than the next-highest bid, and for non-contested items a price halfway between your min & max bids.

Lots marked "split" will be split if you want to pre-bid for a particular issue.
